10th Annual San Diego Pottery Tour set for December 2017

The 10th annual San Diego Pottery Tour of artist studios will take place on the weekend of December 9 & 10, 2017, from 9am to 4pm. This free self-guided tour has 8 studio stops featuring over 30 of San Diego's best ceramic artists, spread throughout the neighborhoods of the San Diego metropolitan area. The pottery lover has a rare opportunity to purchase a huge variety of unique handmade gifts for holiday giving. To see the map of the tour and work by participating artists, visit:

San Diego's best ceramic artists will be on hand showcasing their work in their home and group studios. Come meet the potters exclusively at nine studios where they create, develop, and refine their work.

At every stop, distinctive and one-of-a-kind pottery will be on display and available for sale. Browse the hundreds of new pieces of useful pottery fresh from the kiln! Spend time discovering unique handmade pots displayed throughout the homes, yards, and studios of the artists.

You'll find a piece of locally-made pottery to suit every taste from the perfect coffee cup that fits your hand to museum-quality work for the discerning collector. There will be lots of useful pots from planters to pie plates to serving ware for exciting dinner parties, or an intimate dinner at home. Converse with the artists and learn how they find passion and inspiration in their work. Several studios will feature demonstrations of pottery making, too! Take home the beauty you discover and delight in the joy of using handmade pottery all year long. Or share your find as a gift for a friend.
